

State AEA OT & PT Postsecondary Transition Conference

April 2-3, 2020

This workshop will focus on the roles occupational and physical therapists can play in the transition from school to adult life of students with disabilities. A focus will be on developing unique opportunities for occupational and physical therapists to assist students to develop interests and engage in adult roles within their communities.

Instructors

APRIL 2

Kendra Williams-Diehm, Ph.D., BCBA, is an Associate Professor in Special Education in the Jeannine Rainbolt College of Education at the University of Oklahoma. She holds the Brian E. and Sandra L. O'Brien Presidential Professorship and the Zarrow Endowed Chair for Learning Enrichment. Her primary research interests include comprehensive transition services with a focus on self-determination, specifically for individuals with an intellectual and/or developmental disability.

Malarie Deardorff, M.Ed., is Assistant Director and Research Associate in the Zarrow Center for Learning Enrichment at the University of Oklahoma. In addition, she is currently a Ph.D. candidate in Educational Psychology with a focus in secondary transition and applied behavior analysis and anticipates graduating in May 2020. Her primary research interests are in transition assessments, incorporating transition practices into elementary and middle school classrooms, and compliance and quality transition planning.

Meira Orentlicher, PhD, OTR/L, FAOTA, is a school-based occupational therapist specializing in transition from school to adult life of students with disabilities. Her research focuses on the experiences of high school students with disabilities and their families during and immediately after the transition from school to adult life, specifically when using consumer-directed benefit programs.
